

THE SEVENTH CHAPTER

Being a toddler (like a teenager)

Vulnerability sensitive touchy

It may be influential if you grow your child up with boundaries

But as with the tide, u never know when tribulations rock the boat, so we all have to adapt to changes and challenges

Helping your child learn through or from mistakes

It is important for your child to be aware of what mistakes are alright and what/when it's not

Don't ever put your child down (when in frustration), attempt to approach with a logical perspective and understanding, comprehending the whole of the matter

U know how hurtful bullies r to kids

When they feel let down by you, u can imagine how much more hurtful that is to your child

Help your children understand and be aware and equipped to handle life situations, making sure they can confide in you when they face problems at school, with their peers and so on.

There is no perfect life, we can't be perfect

Just a note on the side...

(for a touch of humor)

I always remember this statement from a galfren, which still manages to tickle me

My galfren's mum always reminds her that her children are her karma

hmm, I m worried when my turn pops out keke
