SCHEDULE THE BRIEF

Developing at an optimal level would enable your child to figure their different capabilities and groom their skills in a world of possibilities.

Schedule a session with us today to engage in the interview process where we could better understand your aspirations for your child and a private session to understand your child's presence.

IEP

We would tentatively draw up an IEP – individualized education plan – specifically tailored to help your child with The Scorecard – to enhance their developmental skills and strengths according to their individual capabilities.

APPLICATIONS

We adhere to theories from our predecessors like Jean Piaget in developing cognitive skills and identify their learning styles by David Kolb's methods and the VARK Model.

Building Blocks

The basic building blocks equip us to enable us in our processes that we would need to engage in.

The Processes

A Journey

We go through a winding journey and find ourselves at the gate that we would want to enter and immerse in the roles.

Entering the 'right' gates

Peer linking

Peering through the glasses, we nudge shoulders with the right ones whom we find 'alike'-ment while conversing.

Establishing connections

The Game-changer

Challenging and rewarding is the enabler whom champions the obstacle race. Identifying your strengths in the race.

Building Strengths

Dealing with Obstacles

'Stop, look, go' that's how we are accustomed to rules. However, in the natural pursuits, we engage our survivor capabilities

Without Rules

Safari

In the 'human' kingdom, we find many different species alike and dislike but we all live with each other in survival modes. Our frontal cortex functions in relation to our adaptability to the versatile climate & environment we exist in and our hippocampus lights up in ways we feel in co-existence with our companions and responses.

We could equip our aspiring young ones to better champion the race in humanity and enrichment enhancement to overcome and achieve more as they run around the 'playroom'.

Skillset, Toolset, Mindset

Share with us Today what you would like to achieve in whichever aspect for your child and we would customize IEPs (Individualized Education Plans) specifically tailored to your child's needs and self-growth in enrichment.

Identify your needs Today and we will engage your child in the learning processes that could best enable him/ her.

Individualized Education Plans (IEPs)

The Mind Rules

We are accustomed to certain rules of life that enables us to function at minimal capacity due to familiarity and common grounds.

Processing

Enter

Finding our strengths and discovering our capabilities, gears us towards the 'gates of the world' that we would enter.

The Journey

Embrace

Finding other individuals who have certain similarities to us, we are able to engage better in communication.

Connecting

Array 'disarray'

Monumental challenges highlight our journeys and bring on a sense of accomplishment camaraderie.
